

What Is Contentment?

Contentment is the being satisfied with the sovereign dispensations of God's providence. It is the opposite of murmuring, which is the spirit of rebellion – the clay saying to the Potter, "Why have you made me thus?" Instead of complaining at his lot – a contented man is thankful that his condition and circumstances are no worse than they are.

-A W Pink